Chuck and Eileen Behm with their daughter,
Ohio Lassie Princess Sandra Behm . . . hosts for the Purple Blend Polled Shorthorn Sale.

Welcome to Purple Blend

We at Purple Blend have strived to assemble a herd of Polled Shorthorns that will help raise the quality and value of all breeds of cattle. We have our work cut out for us, as do all breeders. However, we feel fortunate in having had the opportunity to build this herd on the knowledge of those who strived before us. If we can help our descendants produce a few strong families in the future, we feel our time will not have been wasted.

This great breed of Polled Shorthorns is definitely on the move to new and greater things. With the infusion of new blood and new ideas, it will grow and prosper.

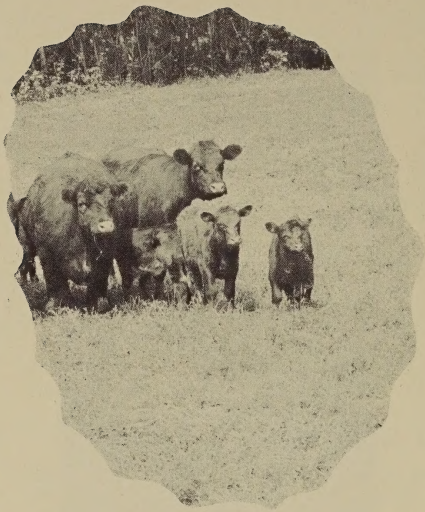

We look forward to welcoming you all to Purple Blend to see our operation and to evaluate our offering and the very good guest consignment of George Arrowsmith. Nothing is more pleasing to us than to welcome you and discuss our futures together.

Chuck and Eileen Behm

PURPLE BLEND. . .

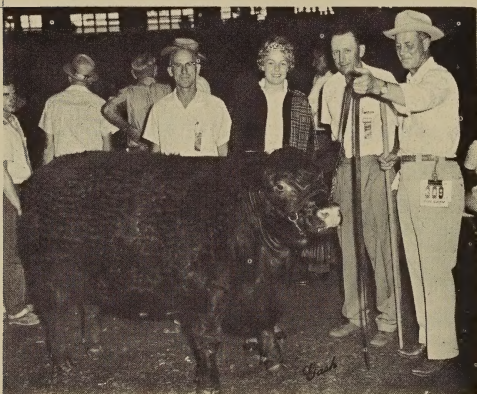

A HERD BUILT ON QUALITY!

It takes top females, as well as a top bull, to work improvement. Look at the prominent show winners displayed on these two pages which are now part of the Purple Blend herd.

Some of the good-headed cows and husky polled calves in the Purple Blend Herd.

No herd has been more diligent in its quest for the breed's top individuals and most dependable blood lines than Purple Blend. Charles and Eileen Behm have founded their herd carefully. The success of their efforts will be apparent when you visit Purple Blend on sale day.

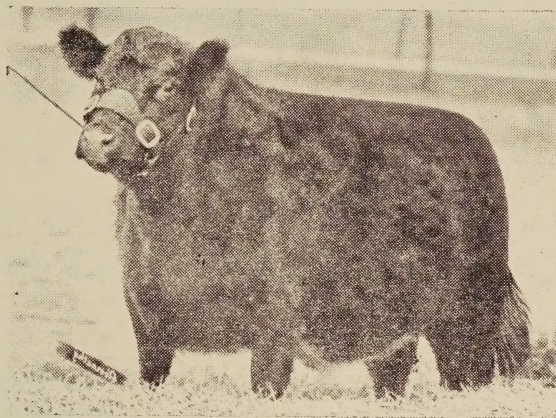

MISS ROSEWOOD CORONITA x
Grand champion female at the 1963 Illinois and Missouri State Fairs, reserve champion and top-selling female at the 1963 All-American Sale. She is now a valued member of the Purple Blend Herd.

These Are Part Of Purple Blend's Quality Herd

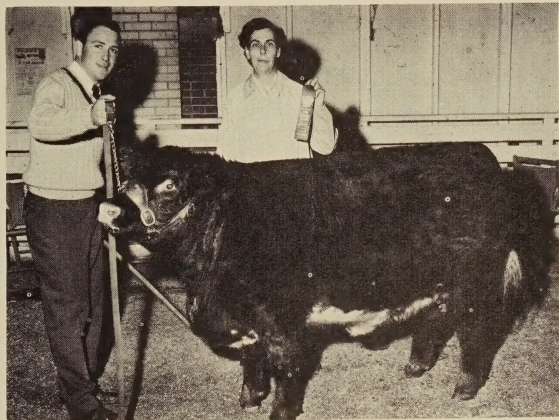

PS CLIPPER WINNIE 44th x
The 1963 Pennsylvania and International grand champion and the Eastern National reserve grand champion for Pennsylvania State University. She is the type that Purple Blend has been adding to its female foundation.

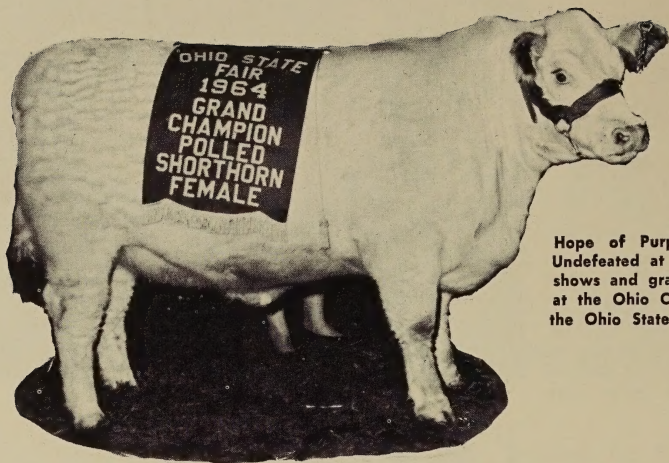

OAKWOOD CLARA T 3rd x
The 1959 International reserve senior champion. Purchased in the Oakwood Dispersion for $2,000. She is a full sister to Oakwood Cadet x and she is also a member of the Purple Blend herd.

DAINTY OF ACADIA x
The grand champion at the 1963 All-American Polled Shorthorn Show and Sale and third in class at the International. Purple Blend purchased her for $1,200.

Hope of Purple Blend x.
Undeclared at three strong shows and grand champion at the Ohio Classic and at the Ohio State Fair.

A good measurement of a herd's stature is its success in the show ring. Purple Blend, in its inaugural show year, has enjoyed impressive success for a herd so young. A few of its winners are shown here.

Purple Blend Dauntless x. By Oakwood Lancer x, this young bull was a class winner at the Indiana State Fair.

Pauline of Purple Blend x. Champion at the Butler, Pa. Fair and reserve senior champion at the Ohio Classic.

Oakwood Cadet x, the great Purple Blend sire, with typical cows and calves in the Purple Blend herd.

Not since the days of Cherry Hill has the foundation of a Polled Shorthorn herd so captured public imagination. Chuck and Eileen Behm have vowed to assemble the kind of Polled Shorthorns that will be able to improve the breed and produce bulls that in turn can help the entire beef cattle industry. Be sure to inspect this great foundation which is filled with show and sale champions purchased at high figures.

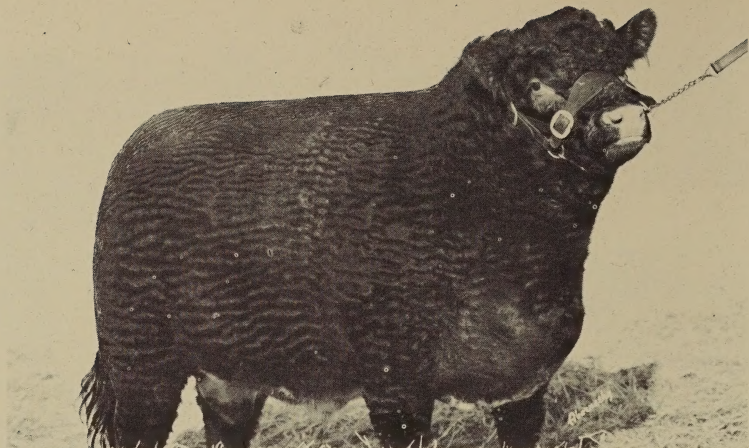

These selections have been backed by the knowledge that can come only through living with, loving and hauling the feed buckets to some of the nation's finest Polled Shorthorns. The foundation has been selected with the paramount idea in mind that great sires must come from outstanding cows.

The sale offering is the first sample of the Purple Blend breeding program. Included is the get and service of the International grand champion Oakwood Lancer x and the International reserve grand champion Oakwood Cadet x.

The offering is further strengthened by a prime group from George Arrow-smith's great Maryland herd and features the get and service of the International grand champion Rodney's Leader 29 x.

Plan now to be at Purple Blend November 7 for the first sale from a great new herd.

OAKWOOD CADET x—One of the most popular champions of his time with one of the most illustrious pedigrees in the breed. Cadet was the 1962 International reserve champion bull, twice All-American and never defeated in class. He was champion at many shows in 1963, including Indiana State Fair and many southeastern shows. He is out of Hi Ho Cherry Clara by Kelburn Yesteryear and he by Mount Banker, some of the strongest blood to be imported. Clara goes back to the old Maxwalton Clara family, a fact that adds much prestige to this pedigree. Cadet is, of course, by Creekland Lancer, the 1955 International champion by Louada Developer by Calrossie Highland Leader by Kirkton Baronet, he probably the greatest breeding bull in the last 50 years in Scotland. But, along with these sires we have the great Millhills Mysie family on his dam's side which, when analyzed, gives you the most prepotent blood in any bull in the polled breed. His calves will substantiate this . . . they have that style, hindquarter and doing ability everyone in the breed can use.

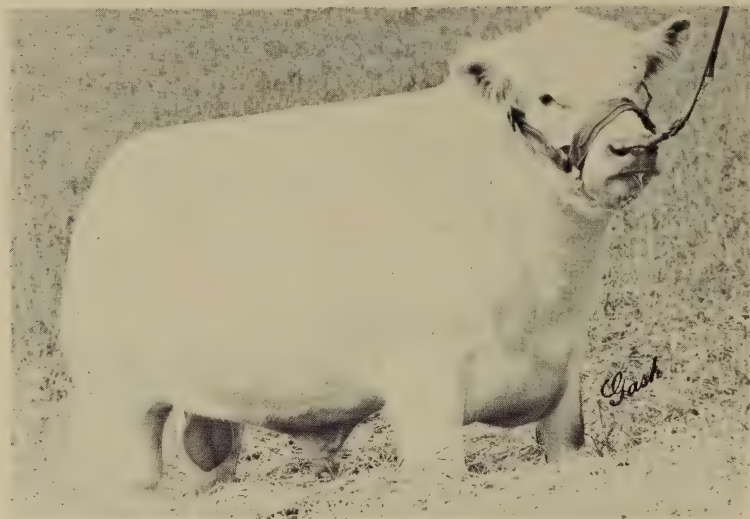

CREEKLAND LANCER x

Some bulls "write" chapters in the book of breed progress. The Creekland Lancer x line has practically rewritten the whole book. This 1955 International grand champion has sired five International champions, innumerable class winners and an unequalled number of first prize winners in the important get and bull group classes. The breeding success of his sons substantiates all claims to greatness.

That's the rear quarter of Oakwood Cadet x at the right in this picture. He was a member of the winning junior get, second-prize senior get and second-prize three bull group at the 1961 International. His half brothers and sisters also made up the first-prize senior get and group of three bulls.

Chuck Behm made Crystal Duke champion and backed up his judgment by buying him. He was grand champion bull his first time out under the Purple Blend Banner and won his class at the Ohio State Fair.

This is the first time in history that so many top females from the Isler herd, one of the oldest herds in the business, have been exposed. We have based much of our foundation on dams and sisters of these females. The Islers have not only maintained a top herd of cows, but have never spared a dollar when in need of a top bull. They have showed many champions in the past and have used such great sires as Briardale Lochinvar by Cluny Romeo; Aldie Cavalcade by Chapelton Baronet by Calrossie Supreme; Maxwalton Guardian, a champion at Chicago; and Aberfeldy Sovereign by Burnton Everlasting from Reford Gardhouse's top herd in Canada. They are going to polled cattle and have been using the 100% dehorner, Oakwood Reward x, the past two years. This group can start a whole new dynasty in the Polled Shorthorn business.
